Home Invasion for Drugs

“We feel like we are willing to sacrifice anything to get the big heist. We don't care what kind of pain or injury we inflict, nothing like that. . . The only thing I could think about was the cash and the marijuana. I didn't care who I had to hurt or harm to get to it. I basically felt like any harm I did was collateral damage . . . I had an ability to be desensitized to violence. It really didn't impact me as much.

- Do you ever think about the victims?
- No, ma'am, not once. They were gone. . . I never gave them a thought. I have never had any thoughts about anyone I had problems with. . . Never did. Never will.

- How do you think your behavior impacted your victim?
- A. Never thought about it. It wasn't my problem. I got what I wanted.”

Anthony

My mind doesn't see right or wrong. I don't always have a conscience. People they see right and wrong, and they don't want to do things because they're wrong. I on the other hand, there are times I don't have a conscience at all, and I don't really care one way or the other about hurting other people . . .

Willie

Q. When other people suffer?

A. There are various reactions. There's not one reaction. Sometimes I feel for them, as much as I can. Sometimes it's funny. Sometimes I feel nothing.

What is Psychopathy?

“Psychopathy is a disorder characterized in part by shallow emotional responses, lack of empathy, impulsivity, and an increased likelihood of antisocial behavior . . .

(Anderson 2014)

Features

- “Relatively persistent traits becoming apparent before age of 10”
- “Significant genetic risk factors”

(Anderson, 2014)

Lack of Attachment

- I've been in all types of relationships. It was never going to last. Later I started just fucking them, and they have to give me money. I live off myself. I'm a hustler. I don't depend on anybody. I'm a hustler. I like to add, divide and multiply. I don't like to subtract.

Inability to Bond

Shallow Affect

- Q. “Were you ever in love?”
- A. “I was very much emotionally attached to all of them in a sense. I don’t want to say I was in love with them because I still don’t know what love is.”

Shallow Affect (continued)

- “I exposed myself – I did in some sense – I don’t mean any disrespect when I say this – women – you demand some kind of connection – you hunger for something more than a mutual friendship. Eventually they wore me down in the sense that I did tell them certain things but I did this in a way that if they said something to someone else I would know who said it.”

- Q. Were there any of them at all that you cared about?
- A. About 10 I took serious. The last one was the one who stabbed me in my arm. .

Lack of Reciprocity

Ted Bundy

- For some reason, it was a necessary way of looking at things. To say that perhaps this person won't be missed. I mean, there are so many people. This person will never be missed. It shouldn't be a problem. . . (p. 135)

- So, what's one less? . . . What's one less person on the face of the planet? What difference will it make a hundred years from now? (p. 188)

Lack of Empathy

Joy of Crime

“I hope I go in a blaze of glory. When I was doing the crazy things I was doing it was kind of fun. You run out of a bank with a bag of money. You’ve got all this money. You can do whatever you want. It feels kind of powerful. Plus you know you’re going to prison. You know you’re going. So you just have all the fun you can.”

- “The reason psychopaths don’t attend to fear-provoking stimuli may simply be that they are not especially afraid of them in the first place.”

(Lillifield, 2015)

Callousness

“Sometimes I see easy prey. Fuck her. She don’t know me. I’m not looking for no love. I want some money. If she’ll bring in some drugs, cool. If she’ll have sex, better.”
